PART 1 - Task 1: LISTENING COMPREHENSION

Task 1: Thomas Newcomen – father of the Industrial Revolution

You will hear a talk on Thomas Newcomen. Listen carefully to the instructions. For questions 1- 5, complete the sentences using no more than one word or a number for each gap. You will hear the words that you need to use. The answers will occur in the same order as the questions. You will hear the passage twice.

You have 30 seconds to read through all the questions.

The task begins with an example (0).

After you hear the passage for the second time, you have 1 minute to check your answers and transfer them to the Answer Sheet.

- (0) A lot of people mistakenly believe that Scotland was where the steam engine was invented.
- (1) Newcomen had learnt how to be a _____ before he opened his store.
- (2) The miners used to complain about _____ to Newcomen in his store.
- (3) The year _____ saw the first appearance of Newcomen's engine.
- (4) Because of its reliance on _____, Newcomen's engine was expensive to run.
- (5) Inventions such as the _____ would not have been possible without Newcomen.

This is the end of the listening task.
You may now go on to do the writing task.

PART 1 - Task 2: WRITING

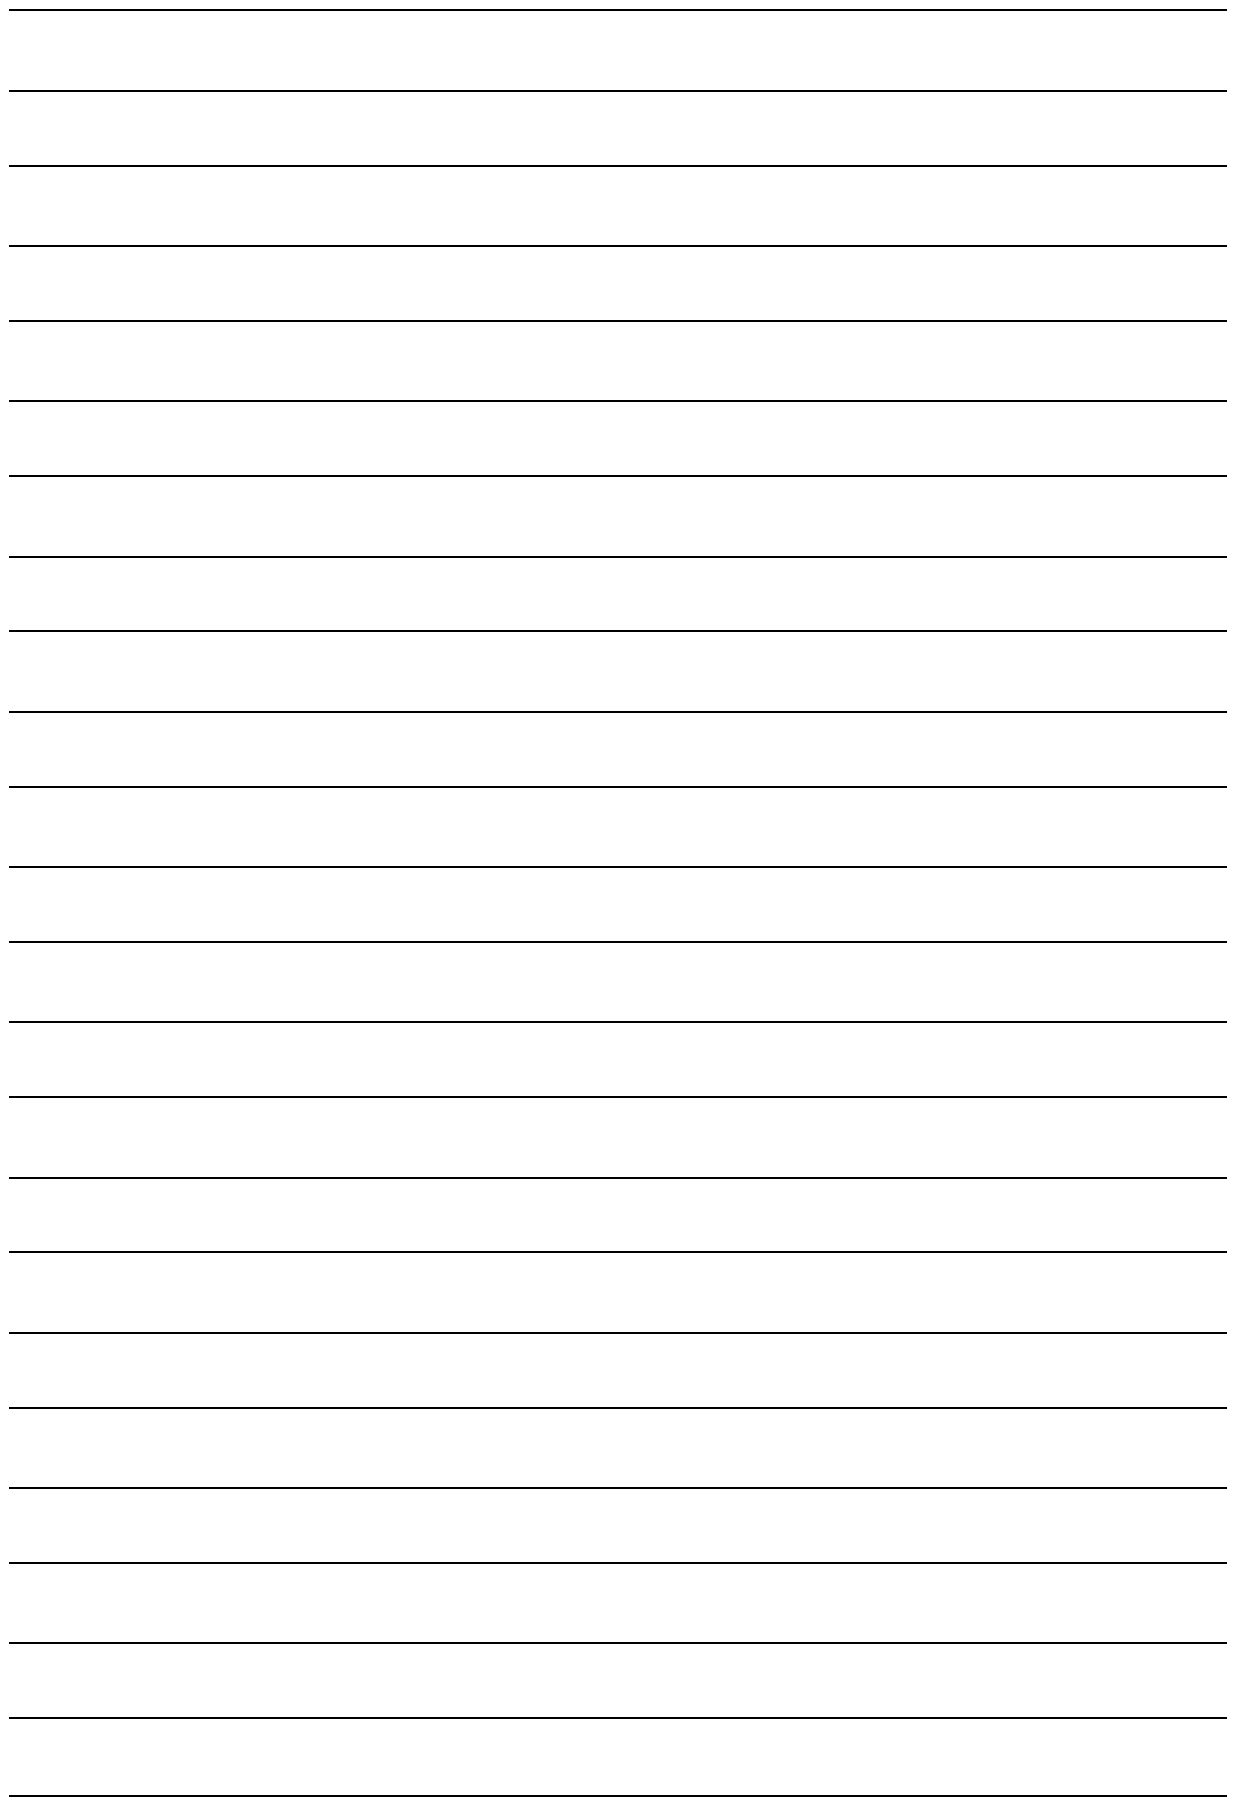

Task 2: Writing

“Some people say that cars do more harm than good, while others believe that we simply can’t live without them.”

What do you think about this statement? Develop your ideas in an argumentative essay. Make sure you write about both sides of the argument and give your own opinion.

Organise your composition in three to five paragraphs (introduction, development, conclusion). Your essay should consist of approximately 250 words. You may use the blank paper provided for making notes, but make sure that your essay is neatly written in the space provided below.

This image shows a blank sheet of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and extend across the width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.
